

We Rate Dogs Insights

WeRateDogs is a Twitter account that posts pictures of dogs. It is very popular and has 9.3 million followers. In this project, I analyzed the data from this Twitter account and found important insights into the most popular dogs, most common dog names, and the most popular dog stage.

The dog with the most favorites/likes was Duddles. He had 107,956 likes. Here is a picture of Duddles.

The most popular dog name that was found after the data insights was Cooper. Here is a bar chart displaying the most popular dog names

I also found insights into finding the Dog Stage that had the highest rating average (converted to decimal to normalize ratings). The dog stages are doggo (an older dog), floofer (any type of dog), pupper (transition between puppy and dog), and puppo (a small puppy). Here is a graph that displays the findings. From the graph, we can tell that the Doggo Stage had the highest vote average.
